Quantock Class Newsletter

Celebrations

A really positive start to this academic year from all students, they have all received certificates for either highest Dojo points or 'most improved'. Quantock class have worked together to produce a class 'Ten Commandments' during a Me and My Environment lesson that they are trying to really hard to stick to. We have seen some fantastic engagement in the outdoor education activities. Well done Quantock class!!!

Learning

This term we have covered this topic of slavery in English and History. There was a focus on biographies in English where we read 'Journey Back to Freedom' about the life of Olaudah Equiano and about Harriet Tubman. Students used laptop to write a short biography of Harriet Tubman. In Maths we have been working on Place Value, and have used concrete and pictorial representations to support their learning.

In Science we looked at cells and learned how to use the microscope and some enjoyed the Science safety lesson, where they safely set their hands on fire.

A number of topics have been covered in WOW lessons such as stereotype, racism what influences them and safe online use.

We had fun in kitchen making pizza and burritos.

Pastoral

Quantock class have been fantastic at handing their phones in and wearing uniform. Keep this up everyone!!! Despite a few illnesses, attendance for this term has been generally good.
